Our Schools, Our Kids, Our Solution

The Problem

As school violence continues to spread across the country, lawmakers, school officials and students are looking for effective ways to confront this increasing risk. But the reality is that students don't "just snap" and almost always there are warning signs that are observable on the path to violence...violence against others...or violence against self. These warning signs are opportunities to intervene if recognized early and responded to appropriately.

The Solution

Because of this, CPPS has produced a new 15-minute video program, "Beyond Lockdown – Preventing and Responding to Extreme School Violence". This 15-minute program pulls from guidance from the FBI, Secret Service and Department of Education to educate students, parents, teachers and staff how to recognize warning signs that a student may be progressing towards violence, and how to respond effectively if violence does erupt.

Partnering Together

CPPS is committed to make "Beyond Lockdown" available to all schools in the U.S. free of any charge. We are asking like-minded corporations and organizations to get behind this cause to help keep our children and schools safe by choosing one of our Sponsorship packages. Will you and your organization make our schools a safer place for our kids and teachers?
